SECOND NEGATIVE TO THE PROPOSED CAPITULATION OF PARIS.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—[By cable.]—The intelligence, from an unofficial source, is believed to be entirely trustworthy:

The second refusal will insist upon the unconditional surrender of Paris, with all its forts and defenses.

The report in the London Times that there is a secret treaty between Bismarck, Napoleon, and Ferry is untrustworthy.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The World's London correspondent says: "The Secretary of the Empress Eugenie denies that she signed the autograph which Bismarck claims to have."

"The Empress is concerned and distressed at M. Jules Favre's report, Mr. Picard and Dorian have received passes to go to Versailles to join in the negotiations. The employees yesterday had an unprecedented amount of food bought.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The Paris News says: "Rumors prevailed, then, yesterday in Paris, of the arrival of Favre at Versailles, and that negotiations for capitulation were continued.

It is said that the Emperor of Germany has written a letter to his wife, in which he says the capitulation of Paris is imminent, and that he expects specially to return to Berlin.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—[By Cable.]—The Times says: "Up to 10 o'clock this morning no official news had been received at Versailles, but it was ascertained that an interview of the representatives of Paris and the German leaders here at noon to-day. It was ascertained that no information of the capitulation of Paris had been received there, and at the British foreign office it was stated that it was also reported that M. Favre made propositions to capitulate.

"Negotiations are now at a standstill, awaiting the return of Favre to Versailles, to which he went yesterday, to lay the ultimatum of Paris before Bismarck.

"The Times' Versailles correspondent says: 'The Count de Chaudordy, Minister of Foreign Affairs, left Versailles for Paris at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and returned at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. He was accompanied by Count Arnim, Chief of the Staff of the Crown Prince, and by Count Bismarck. The Count de Chaudordy, on his return, reported to the Council of Ministers, which was then sitting, the result of the conference with Jules Favre. The Council, after deliberating for some time, decided to send Count de Chaudordy back to Paris, with instructions to communicate to Jules Favre the decision arrived at by the Council.'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Senate, to-day, had the floor in the forenoon, after the morning hour, on the bill to amend the Civil Service law, and Schurz, who has been one of the most earnest opponents of the measure which have marked the most important speeches delivered by him, this session, but the civil service reform does not interest the senate to the same degree that the Missouri question, and the San Domingo question did, though the galleries were well filled by an attentive audience. He closed by moving to substitute the bill of his own for that of Mr. Trumbull, which he thought went in that it deprived the President of one of the chief sources of information about office-seekers, without providing any substitute. His bill provides for a board of civil service reform, who shall examine all candidates for the offices of the civil service, the keeper of the majority of the Senators was with approved of the bill, and Senator Howard, offered during a speech, he made a motion to recommit after Mr. Schurz, to the effect that he was sick of the whole subject, and that it was a mere waste of time to discuss it. A motion was made to lay the subject on the table, but the Senate went into executive session without disposing of it.

THE SPRAGUE CASE.

Mr. Jenckes, of Rhode Island, has protested against the Committee on Privileges and Elections, not having reported in favor of Mrs. Sprague's claim to a seat in the Senate. Since the Committee has been in session, Mr. Jenckes says, he has received information that he has not failed to establish, nor had an opportunity to attempt to establish, the charges, and that he is ready to go on as the prosecutor, the investigation having been called for by another, but, if called upon by the committee, he will be ready to go on with it.

Mr. Trumbull said that he had not been consulted about it. Mr. Trumbull has replied, saying the charges was unauthorized, and that the committee had not got through hearings and as the matter was not important, he would hand the matter over to Morrow.

KENTUCKY SYRUPS.

The remarks of Congressman Knott, of Kentucky, while the St. Croix Railroad bill was under discussion, caused considerable excitement in the House to-day. He struck the Jacksonian side of the simple supremists which have been made by many members of the House, and which are constantly urged by the Democratic press. He said and steamship scheme was inaugurated, and, frequently canvassed his brethren with his own views personal a shipping interest, and he was the author the passage of this scheme. The whole thing was a capital hit at the customary rhetoric of Chrystal Democratic orators. He said he knew gentlemen who have enterprises of this character on foot, for which they will recommend aid. The members generally applauded the point of the motion, and appeared to fully appreciate his wit and humor. Then Mr. Hamilton, of Illinois, rose and extended it indefinitely, and continued to laugh and applaud his remarks until he was finally speaking, Baker vainly endeavoring to keep order.

HEAVY APPROPRIATIONS RECOMMENDED.

The Senate Committee on Appropriations have agreed to the Harbor and River Improvement bill, and will report thereon at an early day. The amount involved in the bill is about $5,000,000, and all the demands for aid in this direction will not be met by it. Everybody who has a hobby to ride to get up bills in behalf of his section of the country. Nearly $10,000,000 will be asked for the Mississippi River alone. The appropriation bill reported by Mr. Morrill, Committee in favor of the Louisville Canal is $750,000. This is in addition to $300,000 recently voted.

GENERAL SCHENCK.

General Schenck left here to-day for the purpose of assisting at the inauguration of Governor-elect Geddes him by the members of New York. His Attorney General Evarts is to make a speech in the Senate on the Alabama claims, before he leaves for Europe he will return here for instructions.

Mr. HOWARD, Chairman of the Committee on the Pacific Railroads, the committee was discharged from further consideration of the subject of the Memphis, El Paso & Pacific Railroad bill, and the same was referred to the Committee on Railroads.

Mr. HOWARD introduced a bill to amend the act to incorporate the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, to grant lands to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from Lake Superior to Puget Sound, on the Pacific coast, and to secure the safe transportation of the mails, troops, and munitions of the United States over said road, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Railroads.

Nothing for new trial in cases heard upon the law calendar (non-jury trials) calendar will be taken up this day, before Judge Blodgett.

Circuit Court.

Daniel Donovan, convicted guilty under an indictment charging him with the murder of Mrs. Ann Bergin, in Cook County, Illinois, on the 4th day of July, A.D. 1870, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Drummond to be hanged by the neck until dead, on the 24th day of March next, between the hours of 10 o'clock A.M. and 2 o'clock P.M. of that day, by the sheriff of Cook County, Illinois. The prisoner was then remanded to the custody of the sheriff, to be by him kept in close confinement until the day of execution.

Alexander Mendenhall, of Chicago, was brought before the court by petition of William T. Hamilton, a Scotch, of Scotchtown, Orange County, New York, and the petition of Mendenhall was dismissed, and he was remanded to the custody of the marshal. The petitioner's petition of bankruptcy was filed in the United States Court, in the city of Chicago, and the bankrupt filed his petition in the United States Court, in the city of New York, and the case was transferred to the Chicago court. The petitioner's creditors at the time of the filing of the petition in bankruptcy, were Messrs. Hamilton & Co., of New York, and the amount of their claim was $1,000. The petitioner's assignee in bankruptcy was appointed by the Chicago court, and he was required to give a bond in the sum of $2

THE PRIZE-FIGHTER MAKES.

The Chicago Times of Thursday, Jan. 26, has a letter from Mr. Sam A. Paine, of Nashua, N. H., in which he says that it is the intention of that society to in-corporate as the New England Jockey Club, and to proceed to take place this day of Sept'y, near the Grand Junction Course, in Lowell.

Mr. Paine also says that both contests as great and fascinating, and in violation of law, yet he thinks that the Lowell Fair will be a success, and that the Lowell Course will be a success, and that the columns of the Times in September, 1869, in which he says that he will be glad to see the Times next year a better one of racing than ever before, and that he will be glad to see the Times next year a better one of racing than ever before, and that he will be glad to see the Times next year a better one of racing than ever before.

It may be interesting to Chicago sportsmen to know that Mr. Paine is a resident of this city, and that he is engaged in the fight. It is from this city with manufactures better from mem-bers of the Chicago Jockey Club, and that he is a resident, and boiling is regard to fair prizes.
